ZIL PASYON, Félicité Island

'Zil Pasyon' Félicité – a Creole term for Isle of Passion, lies in a coveted corner of the Seychelles archipelago; a private island gemstone which has slumbered, untouched, since the dawn of time, amid limpid, azure waters not far from the mainland and yet, in terms of its sublime location...light years from anywhere on earth. Today, it is this same backdrop, wonderfully unchanged, which graces the subtle real estate development of Zil Pasyon, where 14 cutting-edge hill-side residences designed by award-winning London architect Richard Hywel Evans, are being surgically positioned between sheets of ancient granite and virgin forest and serviced by the 35 villa five star Resort which is positioned along 1.6 kms of meandering coastline.
